

Video Creator and Editor

Description:

Position: This is a Freelance and contract position. Compensation will be commensurate with experience.

We are looking for a creative video expert and editor to partner with on simple YouTube content from existing illustrations and book art. We have a client who has written a children's book series targeting ages 3-5. There are currently 2 books out with 2 more planned for in 2021.

We are thinking ideas like:

- Simple animations from the illustrated pictures
- Voiceover /reading from the book while using simple animations of the existing pages
- Short videos pulling from the themes from the book, utilizing existing artwork AND potentially creating additional looks based on the style
- Any ideas you may have!

Do you have these skills, or are you a wizard creating interesting content from existing art? If interested, please apply on our website: <https://methodagency.com/careers/>, and include links to your portfolio and experience.
